READS NEWS: LEADS TO FINDING OF "JIT" CHECK

Reminded by the account of the passing of a 5-cent check, seen in the columns of the Daily News, Miss Gertrude Woodbridge of Eureka, cousin of Mrs. Edith Woodbridge of this city, hunted up an old-time friend, recovered a 5-cent check made out to her more than four years ago, and sent it post haste to the Bank of Fortuna, which had requested her to secure the check, which was drawn by W. F. McCoy, formerly of Richmond, and which had been carried in the "checks outstanding" column of the bank's books since it was drawn.

Before Miss Woodbridge left for Richmond the bank had asked her if she could secure the check and return it to them, and she had promised to get the check, which she had given to a friend as a souvenir. The matter had entirely slipped from her mind until she read the account in the Daily News.

More than four years ago Miss Woodbridge, who is a milliner, left Fortuna for a business trip to San Francisco. She had promised to buy a hat, in a joking manner, for McCoy, who at that time lived in Fortuna. Several telegrams passed between the two, joking about the kind of new hat. Miss Woodbridge asked for cash in advance, and the 5-cent check was sent. A friend asked for the souvenir, and was given the check. Miss Woodbridge made the trip to San Francisco and located the friend, who still had the check, which she sent back to the bank.

FISHER IS GIVEN FINE

Anton Petrich, a Swedish fisherman living near Pinole, was brought before Judge Roth yesterday, charged with violating the fishing laws. He pleaded guilty and was given the minimum fine of $20.

J. L. Bambeck, a fish commissioner from Oakland, opened a box of fish consigned by Petrich, and on noticing that the black bass looked small in spite of the fact that the box weighed the correct weight, made a careful examination of the fish.

They were black bass, and the minimum weight limit is three pounds. Several of the fish were weighed and found to be safely above the required weight. On holding one of the fish up, and shaking it, the discovery was made that they were stuffed with little fish.

A careful examination was made of the consignment, and it was found that few of the fish weighed over two pounds. A warrant was sworn out, charging a violation of the fish and game laws, and the arrest followed shortly.

RUSHING WORK ON SPECIFICATIONS FOR MAIN SEWER

The office force of the city engineer's department are busily engaged in the completion of plans and specifications for the main sewer, which will take in West Richmond and the northwest part of town. The main will empty into the San Pablo channel.

City Engineer Chapman stated last night that the work on the plans was being rushed with all possible speed, and would probably be ready to report to the city council Monday night.

The work, as planned, will take a large crew of men at work for more than four months.

The work will involve much work before it can be completed, and when done will be one of the largest engineering feats to be done in the completing of the Richmond sewer system. It will complete the sewer system of the northwest and west of the city, which was started a year ago.

Arrangements will be made to connect with the drainage canal of the Standard Oil Company, and the sewage will be emptied into the San Pablo channel.

TWO ARE HURT AT NEW BORE

Two men were injured at the municipal tunnel yesterday morning. Steve Gerbac had his hand caught in a clog wheel and it was necessary to amputate one of his fingers. The operation was performed by Dr. C. L. Abbott. Sam Boskovitch fell from the roof of the bore and fractured two ribs. He was also treated at the Abbott emergency hospital.

Shark Does "Oceana Roll;" Alarm Clock Accompaniment

A sailor on the Standard Oil steamer Wabash tells of a thrilling experience which he and his companions met with on their last voyage. It was as follows:

Shortly after the vessel had left the Golden Gate on her way out to open sea on the last voyage, a 20-foot shark was seen following the ship. Thinking to appease its appetite, and keep it from following the ship, the sailors fed it everything available on the ship, but the ravenous appetite continued. A brilliant idea struck one of the crew. He left the party and returned with an alarm clock, which he set 15 minutes ahead, and after winding, tied a piece of meat to it, and let it down with a line to the waiting jaws of the shark.

The shark snapped at the bait, and swallowed the clock. He apparently did not notice anything wrong with the meal until the clock said it was time to get up. When the noise started in his internals, he began lashing his tail violently, and turning double tumblers in the water. After doing the "Oceana roll" and swallowing gallons of salt water in an apparent effort to drown the noise within, the shark, after nearly a half hour of infuriated lashing, the noise ceased, and the shark halted for a quiet sea, evidently satisfied to quit following the ship.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank the voters of Contra Costa county for the large vote given me and to assure them that I shall continue to act with integrity and fidelity for the interests of the people of Contra Costa county.

PALLBEARERS FOR ADAMS FUNERAL NAMED

The funeral services of the late Frank E. Adams, retired capitalist, and well known lumber man of this city, will be held this afternoon in the Elks building.

The usual Elks funeral services will be observed, and the funeral promises to draw an unusually large number of people, owing to the fact that the deceased was a pioneer of Richmond and had a host of friends.

Adams was a member of the Elks for many years, and was a member of the Moose lodge.

The pall bearers were named last night. They were Messrs. Calvin, Iverson, Burnett, Vaughn, Heald and Ackerson.

The services, which will take place at 1:30 o'clock, will be followed by the taking of the remains to Oakland for cremation.

RETURNS FROM VACATION.

Thomas G. McCormick of the boiler-maker works of the Standard Oil, has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at San Diego.

ENGINEER IS VISITOR HERE

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. De Shields are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Cramer at the Point. De Shields is a sanitary engineer and has just returned from a two months' trip to New York and other Eastern cities. He will leave in a few days for the southern part of the state.

STOKER BUYS OUT BUSINESS OF V.H. BROWN

Carl M. Stoker, well known among the younger set of Richmond, has arranged to go into the insurance business and will purchase the business of V. Harold Brown.

The offices will be located with P. J. Ferguson at 1110 Macdonald avenue. Stoker will handle fire, life and accident insurance, and has the agency for several of the best companies.

STRUCK ON HEAD WHILE AT PLAY

While playing in a woodshed in the rear of his home, "Bobby" Byrn, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Byrn, was struck on the head by a plank, which became dislodged from the roof. He was treated by Dr. Hall Vestal.

LEADER OF GREAT BRITAIN'S FLEET

SIR JOHN R. JELlicoe
Second Lord of the British Navy, Commands England's Armada.

FIRE CHIEFS SEE S.F. MEN IN ACTION

Fire Chief Le Moine of the Richmond fire department left yesterday to attend the display given at the assembled fire chiefs of western cities.

A program was staged at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition grounds. Chief Murphy of the San Francisco fire department sounded the alarm that brought out the entire exposition fire department augmented by the city fire companies in the vicinity to give a demonstration of the latest fire-fighting equipment before the assembled fire chiefs of the West.

Jumping into life nets from the top of the tower, sliding down life lines and the use of Pomplier ladders, were among the events of the program.

From the top of the Tower of Jewels a large stream of water was forced into the air at a height of 435 feet and a demonstration was given of the ease with which in the event of the tower being threatened by fire, the entire structure can be enveloped by water.

More than 100 men took part in the exhibition, a special crew of 25 picked men under Captain J. P. Harrington at the head of the exposition fire companies having been in training for weeks for the events.

In the evening a banquet was served, and a theater party was formed.

Le Moine stated before going that the latest in fire appliances were listed for exhibition, and that he looked upon the trip as one would yield much in keeping in touch with the late development of fire-fighting appliances. Members of the city council were planning to make the trip, and were invited by the committee in charge of the affair at the Exposition grounds.

CARD OF THANKS

Through the columns of the Daily News I desire to thank the voters of Contra Costa county for their generous support in Tuesday's primary election. I am sincere in the belief that I will succeed in meriting that support, and when elected, as I expect to be in the November election, I will work to the best of my ability in forwarding the district which I represent.
Very truly,
ZEB KNOTT.

LIMITED CREDIT PLAN

The Retail Merchants' Association, which was formerly a strong and active body in Richmond, but which has but a desultory following recently, will hold its last meeting in A. O. U. W. Hall Monday night, August 31. At that time a new organization will be formed, which will be known as the Merchants' Protective Association.

The new association will take in all retail merchants of Richmond, including retail grocers, butcher shops, hardware stores, etc., and will be formed for protective purposes.

The officers of the old Retail Merchants' Association will preside, and arrangements for the election of new officers and directors for the new association will be made.

The association, according to statements from those who are promoting the change, will make rules which will make rules which will be adhered to by the members, which will fix credit ratings, limit credit, and opening of accounts.

The association at one time had rules which governed the extension of credit to the patrons of the stores of this city. After doing much good, the formation of other bodies took the interest of the members, and the usefulness of the old organization began to fail.

In a statement last night by one of the members of the old association, it was said that the need of a new association was keenly felt, and that the new protective association would be formed with all possible expediency.

MRS. ARN ON RECOVERY ROAD

Mrs. C. F. Arn, who is ill at the Bohannon hospital in Berkeley, was visited by several of her Richmond friends yesterday.

She was taken there Tuesday, nad, although in a serious condition, physicians attending her say that she will probably be able to return to her home in Richmond within three or four weeks.

SUCCESSFUL CARD PARTY HELD BY SILVER SPRAY CIRCLE

The Silver Spray Circle, Companions of the Forest, held a whist party in Bank Hall last night.

After cards, refreshments and dancing helped time to pass until the prize winners were announced.

Mrs. A. Madsen took first ladies' prize, Mrs. R. Rasmussen second, and Mrs. Peterson consolation. C. Dean took first gentlemen's prize, Otto Thole second and D. E. Loftland consolation prize.

The committee worked hard to make the affair successful, and at the close of the social function were made the objects of many congratulations.

BANKERS AND LABOR.

A curious condition in the Stockton lockout situation has been shown in the investigation now being held in San Francisco by the Industrial Board with regard to the relation of the Stockton banks to the M. M. & E. and the fight against organized labor.

It was clearly shown by testimony before the board, testimony which cannot be refuted, that the banks, some of them, at least, of Stockton, went out of their way to "put the screws on" the union men and the newspapers of Stockton in the lockout.

The newspapers were "called on the carpet" by the bankers and the M. M. & E., who informed the editors that the working classes were to receive no support nor publicity and that fair-minded, conservative, reasonable editorials on the situation were taboo.

And this is the idea of the banker of Stockton on fairness. This is the idea of those employers who have been waging the war against organized labor in Stockton on fairness.

Bankers who not only never had any trouble with the unions, who are not affected by the so-called "domination" by the unions, going out of their way to injure their depositors, the working people.

And those same unctious bankers, sitting behind their mahogany desks in palatial offices with their money piles in front of them, will rub their soft, white hands together and talk kindly to the working man about his "business" and about "saving for a rainy day," and "giving the son and daughter a nest egg in the bank," all the while knowing, those smiling money changers of the temple, that they were sinking the knife into the back of labor to the hilt, betraying the very men whose dollars they sought.

Bankers who will do that sort of thing are the worst sort of citizens. Bankers who will hold up loans, who will call in loans, who will put the screws of gold to the backs of working men and women, are not fit to occupy a place in decent society. They are men who know no compunction of conscience. They are men who, bespangling with diamonds, stiff of collar and cuff, well dressed, working their bankers' hours, insert a pudgy finger into a plan to pummel labor and give it the push of their influence.

Those same bankers give big donations to the churches—and publish the fact. Those same bankers, if they donate five dollars to charity, seek five hundred dollars' worth of publicity out of it.

These precious financiers called in their old-time friends and business associates and said to them, if you don't help down organized labor here we will have to pluck you for money and refuse to lend you any more.

These bankers, these "first citizens," sat in their brass railed offices and planned, with their gold in front of them, to take advantage of the working men, to stop the living of women and children. And yet these bankers call themselves men and citizens.

The footpad at least takes a chance with the law when he does a crime. The highwayman at least has nerve enough to take a chance on getting shot when he holds up the train or the automobile.

But these treacherous bankers, sitting in their very respectable offices after banking hours, after they have taken in the dollars of the laboring people, and plan with the merchant and the manufacturer to use the influence of money to sink a dagger of silver deep into the vitals of the working classes.

There is no getting away from that situation in Stockton. Those bankers applied the screws, they called in loans, they refused other loans, they used coercion, just as much coercion as the highwayman uses when he points his pistol at the head of his victim, to force business men into that M. M. & E. combine.

And yet those bankers, smirking and smiling, nodding affably as they roll up to the church door Sunday mornings to hear reverently a sermon on square dealing and brotherly love, consider themselves honorable men.

If all the honor there is in a banker who will do that sort of thing were reduced to dynamite it wouldn't be enough to blow a single typhoid bacilli three inches off a microscopic plate, and you can put several million bacilli on the head of a pin at that.

The testimony before the Industrial Board brought out clearly that the bankers and the rest of the crew which assembled to knife the working people of Stockton deliberately set out to ruin in business those men who would not work with the M. M. & E. against the laboring people. They deliberately planned to ruin those persons who assisted the working people. They deliberately told the newspapers that advertising would be withdrawn and the papers would fall if the papers gave held to the working people.

And that is the sort of men who sit behind marble counters and brass cages and smirk out at the public, fat spiders in their webs seeking the gold of the common people while they prepare to devour the people themselves.

Talk of justice! Why, justice in Stockton must have hidden her head in shame at the outrageous, the unprincipled, the mean, low, petty, dishonorable methods and tactics of that crew in Stockton which some time since started out to crush organized labor and hasn't done it yet.

Satan has more justice in his den than that. Of all the examples of unfair play, of everything that wasn't a square deal, of everything that is un-American, inhuman, that gang at Stockton heads the list.

Fine, wasn't it, to invite those editors out to luncheon merely to tell them they would be ruined in business men to ball them out and then crew of industrial cutthroats?

Fine, wasn't it, for those fellows after planning these things to get up and howl that labor was ruining Stockton?

Fine, wasn't it, after a gang of gunmen in an automobile loaded with black jacks and pick handles, had been arrested, for the attorney of the merchants, bankers and other business men to mail them out and then those same business men get up and He like Ananias about knowing nothing about it?

That lawyer went down of his own volition and dug up that ball money out of his own pocket because he felt sorry for those gun men, didn't he? Not yet.

And these are the men who get up before women's clubs and in chambers of commerce and talk about the menace of Socialism and anarchy and organized labor and the I. W. W.

Why, all the rottenness ever hatched by the snakeheads of Russia, combined with all the sinister plans ever plotted in the circles of the I. W. W. are lily white and innocent as compared to this bunch of men who sit behind their money piles and plot to destroy labor, not with bombs and not with dynamite, but with the more potent and powerful weapon of money.

It is no use to cry "for shame" to such men as those bankers, for men who would do as they did know no shame. They know no charity. They know nothing but dollars, dollars, dollars, all their lives until they become overfed and die from obesity.

And these are the precious fellows who handle the people's money and want to handle more of it.

These are the men who have howled that labor was ruining Stockton and that the unions were sinister of purpose.

These are the men who have howled that the unions planned the ruin of business. These are the men who have howled that the unions would not play fair.

Why, such men as these would not know fair dealing if they met it in the middle of the road and couldn't pass it. They would be too busy appraising it to figure how much they could get out of it before they knifed it with the silver dagger while they patted its cheek to jingle out the last red penny.

McKENZIE TESTIFIES ON THE "HOP RIOTS"

HIT WOMAN IN EYE IS CHARGE ON STOCKTON COMMERCE PRESIDENT

Special to the Daily News.

Stockton, Aug. 28.—Charles E. Manthey, president of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce, pleaded not guilty to the charge of battery preferred by Laura Palmer, who specifically accused Manthey of striking her in the face during a melee yesterday afternoon following a horse-whipping administered Manthey by three women.

Manthey was attacked on Hunter Plaza as he came from a barber shop, attempting to protect himself against the women and a crowd of men, one of the women received a vicious punch in the eye. Manthey then sought refuge in a dental parlor near by. The crowd pursued him and threatened him, but a dentist permitted him to hide in the parlor.

In the meantime the police were notified and went to Manthey's assistance.

The dental parlor was partially wrecked by the crowd.

Manthey said that he endeavored to protect himself from his assailants, and that if he struck any woman it was entirely unintentional.

Early yesterday afternoon three women attempted to horsewhip John P. Irish Jr., but Irish found refuge in the Hotel Stockton and escaped injury.

Many Angles In Hearing Before U.S. Commission

Three angles of the problem of unskilled and migratory labor was brought out by witnesses who testified before the United States Industrial Relations in San Francisco yesterday relative to the Durst hop fields riot.

Among those who were called upon to relate the condition of the affair, was District Attorney A. B. McKenzie of Martinez, who was a prosecuting attorney at one of the trials.

In an investigation of the nationally famous riot on the Durst Brothers' fields last summer, the commission busied itself in a probe which brought out testimony regarding the cause, trial and prevailing conditions before, during and after the riot.

The witnesses who were called, besides McKenzie, were Prosecuting Attorney Carlin of Marysville, Attorneys Austin Lewis and R. M. Rouce, who defended "Blackie" Ford, Fred Sahr and the other men who were arrested; W. A. Mundell, head of a detective agency; George Speed, an organizer for the I. W. W., who gave the laborer's side; E. Clemens Horst, head of a large hop growing concern; James Mills, owner of large orchards, and Professor Carleton Parker of the State Immigration and Housing Commission, who dwelt on the seasonal phase of the problem.

Parker stated that the problem presented in the hop pickers' riot was fundamental to the economic structure of the state, and was the greatest problem which California had to solve.

"The fact that San Francisco has 30,000 or 40,000 idle men over the winter is explained by the fact that agricultural labor ceases in November; also that a certain number drift over the border into California from other agricultural states because of the gentle climate here," he said.

In speaking of the housing problem, he brought out that of 641 camps of migratory workers, occupied by 41,058 workers, investigated by the California commission last year, 188 camps had been found to be distinctly bad, with no toilet facilities, unscreened kitchens and with sleeping quarters that violated the state law, which requires 500 cubic feet of air for each occupant.

Out of the number investigated, 293 were found to be good. Only two were found unwilling to change conditions at the demand of the commission.

In speaking of the wanderlust of the laborers, E. Clemens Horst said that out of 1500 employees of his works, half could be relied upon to stay through the season, while the rest would only stay a few days. He also said that of the class which stayed permanently the large percentage were Orientals.

Commissioner Garretson, by a question, brought out Horst's opinion that the white laborer had learned this migratory habit through the uncertainty of summer employment.

"How many of your employees have families?" was asked.

"None of them," was the reply. He was asked to file his pay roll with the commission.

Mills, who is an employer, agreed that the employers' treatment of the laborer was to blame for the unrest among labor. However, he had the idea that there was plenty of work for all at all times of the year, and that no man need be idle except by choice. In this he was contradicted by the statistics of Parker and Horst.

George Speed gave a clear synopsis of the I. W. W. attitude. Laws, he said, are made in the interest of property; the workingman has no property, therefore the laws are not primarily in his interest. Political power is a reflex of economic power, he said, and he argued that it stands to reason that no government by the economic masters would do anything for labor unless the masters profited at the same time. Upon this basis he explained child labor legislation, workmen's compensation and the eight-hour law for women.

He declared that power determines everything, and that the only way labor could come into its own was through proper organization and solidarity. When this was achieved they could strike and take over the ownership and operation of the industries.

Asked by Commissioner Harris Weinstein, "Do you really think that the workers could operate the shops without the institution of capital?" Speed retorted:

LIFTS A 600 POUND BOX, WEAK HE SAYS

The employees of the local Wells Fargo office "put over" a strong man on genial Harry Yager, a good man and driver for the Richmond office.

According to the statements of bystanders, a box of type was to be moved into the bed of the wagon. The weight, 600 pounds, was marked on the box, and some of the boys, to put up a joke on Harry, erased one of the ciphers.

When the strong man saw the box he grunted a few times, lifted the box to the wagon, and looked into the smiling faces of those who had gathered to see the feat.

"I must be getting old, boys," he said. "For sixty pounds that box had my goat."

When they told him, Yager said: "Well, it only goes to show how mind triumphs over matter. If I had known how much it weighed I wouldn't have tried to lift it."

J. STITT WILSON MAY BE SECURED TO SPEAK HERE ON HIGH COST OF LIVING

Residents of Richmond, in protest against the high cost of living, are making efforts to bring J. Stitt Wilson and his son, Gladstone Wilson, to Richmond to speak on the subject. If they can secure the speaker they will arrange for a hall and begin a publicity campaign to draw an audience.

Wilson has been holding meetings in and about San Francisco. In his speeches he has told about the exorbitant prices charged for foodstuffs. A great protest will be sent to President Wilson and to Congress, and Wilson stated yesterday that only names of people who feel that this fight is their fight and who want to stay with the matter are wanted as signers.

"I do not want to appear pessimistic," said Wilson, "but the fight is in the nick of time. It is time that we began to prepare ourselves from being robbed by the food trusts. The government out here at the Presidio is now selling what we call a 5-cent loaf of bread for 2½ cents. This is its price to soldiers. Why should it not be the same price to us all? If we want this, let's get after it. That is what I want to get before the people."

KNOTT EXTENDS THANKS FOR SUPPORT

To the Voters:

Through the columns of the Daily News I desire to thank the voters of Contra Costa county for their generous support in Tuesday's primary election. I am sincere in the belief that I will succeed in meriting that support, and when elected, as I expect to be in the November election, I will work to the best of my ability in forwarding the district which I represent.

Very truly, ZEB KNOTT.

fully understood and examined by means of their mode of procedure in compiling same. Comprehensive diagrams will be enclosed in each Complete or Limited Abstract as an aid to its examination.

As a matter of convenience to the Richmond public, and to facilitate matters relating to the filing and recording of documents, etc., at the County seat of Contra Costa County, the above company will accept all instruments for recordation upon receipt of necessary fees for same and record with the County Recorder, without any additional charge for their services, and they hereby solicit the patronage of all those desiring to avail themselves of this unique offer, assuring them a welcome at all times, and they would be pleased to have the public personally investigate their methods of business and be shown the workings of the various departments.

ANOTHER CORPORATION FOR THE CITY OF RICHMOND

The illustration above represents the new home of the Richmond Abstract and Title Company, a corporation, incorporated and organized under the laws of the state of California on January 25, 1913, by residents of this section, and its one hundred shares are owned by thirty-one stockholders, consisting of bankers, attorneys at law, real estate brokers and last, but not least, experienced title men and searchers of records, and are men residing in business, or owners of real estate, in Richmond, thus making the above company an entirely local concern.

This plant, among many other innovations, consists of a complete photographic reproduction of all instruments of record affecting the San Pablo Rancho (of which the city of Richmond is a part) from the date of the final partition of said Rancho in the Superior Court on March 3rd, 1894, to March 1st, 1913, and also in addition has complete, up-to-date property indexes of every transfer affecting the original partition lots or subsequent subdivisions thereof.

This company has the distinction of having the only plant in this state so equipped, and is therefore "as good as the best and better than the rest."

In order to BOOST the City of Richmond, the above company is ready and willing at any time to furnish an Unlimited Certificate of Title, absolutely free of charge, for any lot of land which is to be used for any bona fide municipal benefit. They will be ready for business on "What is capital but unpaid wages?" Other witnesses were George Hecke, a Woodland agriculturist and farm adviser under the State University College of Agriculture, and R. I. Bentley, general manager of the California Fruit Cannery, Association.

District Attorney A. B. McKenzie was called upon in the afternoon and his testimony was principally regarding the methods employed by the Burns Detective Agency in the handling of witnesses. R. B. Cradieburgh, the Burns detective who was prosecuted by McKenzie, was sent to a year in prison, and was fined heavily. The action of McKenzie in the affair gave him an opportunity to investigate methods used by the detective company, and his remarks before the commission were confined to explaining the Burns methods as he had found them.

Their Abstract department will be ready to meet all demands made upon it for the rapid issuance of complete, Limited or Continuances of Abstracts to those desiring same, and are issued in simple, concise and most convenient forms that may be read-

COMMENT EDITORIALS.

Editor Daily News—Dear Sir: The Socialists of Richmond, don't their Panamas to your excellency. That editorial page of your's is peerless, as we see it. Its denunciation of the hydra-headed monsters of feudalism, capitalism and its triple ally, militarism. We feel that at this time our moral duty is to put ourselves on record as in the past, always consistently opposed to militarism, with all its concomitant savagery.

We protest today as in the past against inculcating militarism into the minds of the innocent young, as evidenced in boy scouts, soldiers of Christ, militant sodalities, etc. We protest in the name of Him who loved humanity for humanity's sake. Humiliation under despotic tyrants, and dared to finish a short career, was crucified on a cross. He held red human blood sacred. So do we, our red banner bear witness. The European war may carry itself to our shore and the Socialists of America anticipate such a possibility and fully knowing the foul moral cowardice of other so-called moral forces.

We challenge them to show their position or in their sacred capacity remain silent in this hour of direct calamity, the like of which the world has never known.

(Signed).

Fellers, listen! Put your hands into type at that. Oh, 'tis terrible. To your ear and hilt! Did you ever hear the like of it? To read it you would think that Martinez had never fallen more than two or three times at the hands of our Elkins. POOR DOWNTRODDEN MARTINEZ; SUNDAY THEY GET WALLOPED BY THE MOVING PICTURE TOSSERS

Martinez is preparing to go down in defeat before the Niles team next Sunday. The game has been arranged after much coaxing on the part of the county seat boys, but Manager McNamara announced yesterday that the Niles boys had consented to come out and perform the ceremonies of a good stiff wallop before a bunch of Niles fans, on the Martinez grounds.

Having heard of the Martinez defeats at the hands of Richmond and other good teams, the Niles boys did not want to play, but after much coaxing, it was stated, and after promising to put up a better fight than the ones on Richmond grounds, the game was arranged.

Manager McNamara stated also that he was making efforts to secure a Martinez-Concord series, but statements from local boys last night were to the effect of doubting whether they could make it "stick" with Manager Soares.

A Horse Is Worthless

Unless he is correctly shod. To shoe a horse correctly, a shoer must have experience and knowledge. I have studied shoeing for 16 years, having graduated from the shoeing school in Altona, Germany in August, 1902 and I ought to know something about it and I do. But I don't know it all. In fact I never expect to. You see there is so much to shoeing horses correctly that a man doesn't live long enough to learn it all. That's why you cannot afford to have an inexperienced man to work on your horses.

HOW CAN WE GET THEM IN?

THREE TOWNS WILL SEND INHABITANTS HERE FOR BIG GAME

Along highways, byways, car-ways and excursion-trainways, travelers of both sexes will tomorrow wend their weary way in the direction of First street and Macdonald avenue, Richmond. They will come from the north, from the south, from the east, from the west, from the southeast and all other directions of the globe. They will come laden with tales of glory. They will come prepared to tell of the great deeds of their forefathers. They will come with shekels in large quantities.

They will assemble in the box-like structure at First street and Macdonald avenue, Richmond.

They will witness one of the greatest conflicts that has ever been staged in Richmond. Ye, the world. The European war will compare as a game of ping pong when placed alongside the tomorrow's carnage.

So announced the illustrious Howard French, manager and pay check signer of the Richmond Elks, yesterday.

"One of the biggest crowds that has ever witnessed a baseball contest will be present at Sunday's Elks-Concord game," said Mister French.

Jack Soares, who handles the managerial reins of the Concord club, is handing the natives of that burg a line of optimistic "hop" that is actually as funny as that dope they hand out at the county seat. With the assistance of a couple of "rags" in the Concord burg, our hero is shouting out that the Concord club "is going to show the Richmond Elks once and for all how to play ball." Admitting that they will show us how to play ball, we are of the opinion that it isn't playing ball that brings home the chow tickets—it's working the game.

Play and work are two different things. It is admitted that Concord has a pretty fast club and that also when it comes to telling the countryside about it, it is in a class with several other burgs that have gone down under the irresistible battering of the local club. When our boys get through with the slants of the Concord hurlers tomorrow, the hit column will look like a Fourth of July celebration in the good old days of '63.

The local management has slipped the official scorer a couple of injections of peppitus and if he doesn't get busy with the Elk run column, last night. "We expect fully 600 visitors."

French's remarks were given further credence by the arrival from Jack Soares, the Concord manager, of a message in which it was stated that 400 fans would make the trip from Concord. Another 150 dubs and dubbesses will make the trip from Crockett. This bunch will come to root for Concord.

BUT WHY WORRY?

Don Gillen, the handsome young man who guides the destinies of the Vallejo club, last night sent a wireless to the local management, in which he stated that as there would be no game at that place tomorrow, arrangements had been made to run an excursion to Richmond tomorrow. The fans from Vallejo will root for the local club.

It is expected that fully 600 local fans will go through the turnstiles tomorrow, which with the others will make a nice little congregation.

Frank Gordon will open on the mound for the Elks. Manager Howard French declared upon several baseballs last night that Gordon would start the fun. The remainder of the line-up will remain the same.

there'll be a job open for one of the local embalmers. The Concord fans are as nice a bunch of sportsmen as has ever invaded our city. The club plays a clean game; but they are doomed to go down to defeat. Jack Soares is a nice young man and we like to see him get along. But Jack is working under some hallucination which some citizen with the young man's future at heart should explode.

Tomorrow's game will be the third of a series of five. Richmond has won one and so has Concord. Richmond will take the next two, according to the dope sheet. Then the Elks will be open to tackle the Petaluma club. Whether a contest with that burg will ever be arranged again is proving of considerable interest to local fandom. According to Old Kid Rumor, the chicken town fans are shouting for another series and there is every indication that the Petaluma management will arrange for the series as soon as possible. The local club is hot after the series. So far the Pet henner boys have been trimming everything that has come within a hundred miles of the place.

SAMHANDWICH DECLARES ELKS ARE SURE TO WIN

Iema Samhandwich, noted sport scribe on the Daily News staff, left early yesterday morning for a trip to Concord in his monoplane. After kissing each of the boys in the office a fond farewell, in keeping with the ancient Chinese custom, the heathen Chinese turned on full juice and "let her rip" for the little up-country town.

Shortly before midnight he came to the office, and after looking carefully about to see that none of the Elks were around, fearing rough handling, he took his typewriter in his arms and let loose the following about what was what in Concord.

"Of course the Concord boys are practicing every day. They are working themselves to death, and Richmond will undoubtedly find them all played out by Sunday. I heard a rumor that a few more players were to be imported to the coast in time for the game. Take it from a 'good thing' picker that if they don't the game is ours. All we will have to do will be to add the scores, and toss our Kellys in the air after the game is over.

"They are sure crowing about the result of Sunday's game, but then, they had to do it. Look at what we did to them the first time. You can't blame them for just spilling loads of the soft stuff out at their home town. They've got to get by, and the score sounded as though they did some good playing. We shouldn't grudge it to them. Let them holler a little. The more hollering they do the less they will practice.

"As I said before, they are good players, but nothing extra. Luck and the score keeper were with them last time, and if they had taken advantage of all of the luck they would have piled up a bigger score than before. Believe me, boys, when I say, put your money on Richmond Elks Sunday, and be winners."

DIAMOND LURES MISTER LEES' INDEPENDENTS; THEY'LL TAKE SANTA FE NINE TODAY

The Lee Independents have again been organized under the leadership of J. H. Lee and will play their first game today with the Santa Fe team. The Independents disbanded some months ago and decided to let the game ride until next season, but the call of the diamond has been too strong for J. H., and he will try the come-back stunt today against his old opponents, the Santa Fe shop team. The Santa Fe team will be the same aggregation that has always represented the local works, but Lee has a list of several new players which he will work out in the game today. Both teams are on edge and a good game is promised. Lee and Garrard will form the battery for the Independents, while Limbrech and Benson will work for the Santa Fe.

REDMEN TACKLE MISTER CHEEK'S CREW TOMORROW

The Red Men have arranged a series of games with the Vallejo Imperials. The first game will be played September 9 on the Vallejo grounds, while the Vallejo boys will journey here to play on September 19.

The series with San Pablo, by agreement, was changed, so that the next game will be played a week from Sunday with the Red Men, while the Calwa boys will have a chance to lick them tomorrow.

The warriors will tackle the Cheek's Outlaws of Richmond tomorrow, following an effort of long standing to arrange a game on the part of Cheek.

THEY WON'T BE HOME UNTIL MORNING AND THEN BY HECK THEY HAVE TO PLAY A GAME

What promises to be a match between two weary and much-battered teams will be pulled off on the San Pablo grounds by the Winehaven boys and Dutra's San Pablo lads, Sunday.

Each team has arranged for festivities tonight, which will keep them dancing, feasting and merry-making until the daylight hours of Sunday morn.

The Calwa boys will hold their baseball dance at East Shore Park tonight, and after they tire of the terpsichorean mode of entertainment, they have been invited to join with the San Pablo boys in the big night of high jinx and feasting which they have scheduled for tonight.

One of the Calwa boys said last night that several of the Calwa boys were planning to accept the San Pablo's invitation, and that when the clash occurs on the morrow two tired and weary teams would put up a sorry looking fight.

FRESHIES OF HIGH SCHOOL HONORED

RECEPTION TO "BABIES" LAST NIGHT BIG SUCCESS; SCOOP TELLS ABOUT IT

With every upper classman joining in the spirit of welcome to the freshmen class of '18, the annual freshmen reception at school last night was an excellent success. The attendance was large and the always welcome parents of scores of the students were present.

The program began in the assembly room shortly after 8 o'clock with a speech of welcome by President Angell. This was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Merle Jenkins; piano solo, Emile Esola; an exceptionally clever and original monologue by Miss Rose Little; violin solo, Richard Henrich; and a quartet by Louise Fanning, Maryanna Mough, Irene Grunhut, Bernardine McErlane.

Following the rendition of the program in the main building the upper class, arm in arm, with the timid guests of honor, repaired to the gymnasium, where the beautiful decorations of Japanese lantern and wild foliage brought many an admiring remark from the newcomers. Several impromptu stunts followed, but one, the thrilling enactment of the famous "Fireman, Save My Child," one-act comedy-drama, by the local playwright, Chester McAllister, '15, thrilled even the staid and staid seniors, while the juniors were carried off in very glee and the soft-moans. And each and every unsophisticated Eighteen declared after he recovered that it beat the Thursday night vaudeville stunts.

The brave firemen in the scene, replete with red fire and an automobile, that forgot that it ought to, were Ervin Barr, '16, and Clarence Brown, '16. They made a rescue of a baby (J. P. Cummings) from a (red) fire-gutted structure, that never had any insides, after a side-splitting race across the gym floor in miniature auto truck.

Dainty refreshments ably arranged for by the refreshment committee were served throughout the reign of Foolish Hilarity, and the freshmen were in every way made to feel perfectly at home. Undoubtedly the spirit of true welcome and reception to the incoming class was more apparent and universal at this reception than at any former one.

Dancing finished the evening's program; music for which was supplied by an orchestra of high school students.

The committees to whom credit is due for the success of the affair, along with the Student Affairs Committee, were: Entertainment, Miss Ferrier, Valera McLarney (chairman), Walter Hoffman, Vera Wyatt; music, Mrs. Robinson, Holloway Jones, Emile Esola; refreshments, Hazel Kilmer (chairman), Edith Selvy, Donald Grey, Clarence Cain; reception, Alice Greathouse (chairman), Gladys Decker, Meta Ludwig, Irene Conn, Maryanna Mount, Verna Scott, Dana Cox (chairman), Donald McGregor, Paul Folette, Laurence Cameron, Arthur Noyes and Ervin Barr; decoration, Miss Carter, Rose Little (chairman), Grover Milnes, Ethel Hall, Kenneth McAbee and Herbert Schrader.

Relative to drawing up an entrance agreement for Richmond high's entrance into the C. A. C. A. A., Principal Tucker, Athletic Manager McAllister and President Angell will journey to Niles this afternoon, where they will meet and confer with President Moyer of the association and its officers.

McAllister will also arrange schedules for football, basketball and other athletic events. The feeling is that practically all of Richmond high's athletics shall be conducted through the Alameda county association and the plan will be given a thorough trial. However, the up-county games with Martinez, Concord and Crockett and other schools will not be neglected, nad the slogan of "On to Martinez" still leads the gridironers.

Seven seniors, the entire class as a further matter of information, have joined the football training squad. Such a record the class proudly boasts, and without fear of successful contradiction state that no other class of former years can show such an enviable record.

Affiliation With a Strong Bank is desirable because the selection of such a bank as your business partner reflects credit upon you and your judgment.

If you are entitled to financial assistance or general counsel, that bank with which you have allied yourself is the one most ready to aid you, because it is in a way your partner and because its officials know you and to what you are entitled.

This is so whether you are in business and need the assistance of a commercial bank like the First National Bank, or whether you have unemployed funds to place in a safe depository for a greater or less period of time at interest, like the Richmond Savings Bank.
